

Key hybrid traits limit flea beetle damage

12-Jul-2016

By Anders Christensen
Technical Development Representative

Oilseed rape hybrids that are faster to develop before winter and earlier to commence stem elongation can limit damage from cabbage stem flea beetle larvae, reveals the latest research.

Click here to read more